Items Needed to Process Your Advancement

Updated Curriculum Vitae (CV)

Include all publications, presentations, teaching activities, service, awards/honors and grants since your last review.

Candidate Statement

A Candidate Statement is optional, but highly encouraged. It is your narrative and should highlight your greatest accomplishments in all review criteria for your series.

Diversity Statement

A Diversity Statement is optional, but highly encouraged. The statement is your narrative and should describe your impact on the University's mission of equity, diversity and inclusion. For more information on writing a diversity statement, click here.

Teaching Evaluations

Provide copies of any teaching evaluations from special lectures & medical student teaching that you've taught outside of the Department/University. The Department will provide any evaluations for teaching within the department.

Contributions-Publications

Describe your contributions to the work resulting in co-authored publication, keeping in mind the importance of demonstrated intellectual leadership.

Tips for a Successful Review

Best Practice-Start Early

Submit your updated CV and required materials well in advance of your department's deadline.

Best Practice- Know Your Review Period

The review period includes all achievements and activities after those counted for advancement to the current step. Include activities that only occur during your review period in your candidate statement and in your dossier. Consult your department representative or the department of Academic Personnel if you need more information about your review period.

Best Practice-Limit your Candidate Statement to 5 pages

Guidance for writing your statement is provided in this toolkit

Best Practice-Service Activities

Provide an end date for all service activities. If the service is still active, then provide the end of the current review period as the end date. Rather than using present or current as an end date, service will be updated with each action to represent active service for the review period. For dossier reviewers to better understand the workload and your time devoted to outside professional service, you will be asked to provide the service dates and actual number of journal manuscript reviews for ad hoc journal reviews and journal reviews as part of editorial board service.

Step Plus Guidelines: For more information on the Step Plus System, click here

1.0-step= A balanced record, appropriate for rank and step, with evidence of a meritorious record of achievement in all areas of review.

1.5 step= A 1.5-step advancement requires a meritorious record with outstanding achievement in at least one area of review.

2.0 step= A 2.0-step advancement requires a meritorious record in all areas of review, with outstanding achievement in at least two areas of review.
